

International Day of Peace 2021

Ms. Carolyn Colman

Ms. Carolyn Colman will enter the University of Chicago in 2022 after graduating from Jones College Prep High School in Chicago earlier this year, where she was class President of a 450-student class and Co-Captain of her school's Varsity Golf team. Carolyn plans to study neuroscience in college with the intent of attending medical school. Before entering University of Chicago next fall, Carolyn will travel to Korea to study Korean Language at Seoul National University. Carolyn has been a member of The Peace School of Chicago since she was three years old, practicing yoga, peace breathing, and taekwondo. For the last 14 years, she has volunteered at Chicago's annual Peace Day event. Carolyn has also been very active in volunteering with immigrant rights organizations and helping to promote laws, which would grant automatic citizenship to all transnational adoptees in the U.S. She is passionate about inclusivity and was the Co-President of her high school's chapter of Best Buddies, an organization that is dedicated to ending the isolation of people with intellectual and developmental disabilities. In her spare time, Carolyn enjoys reading and playing the piano and violin. It is her sincere hope that peace will one day prevail in the world.
