

International Day of Peace 2021

Ms. Ji-yun Park

Ms. Ji-yun Park is a sophomore at Konkuk university in Seoul, Republic of Korea. This year, she served as the deputy head of the planning department in school club, UNSA(UN Student Association).

She is interested in food security issues and sustainable energy. In order to become a researcher to solve the aforementioned problems, she is majoring in stem cell regeneration engineering. So, she has plans to go to graduate school and study artificial cultured meat using stem cells and contribute to reduce greenhouse gases and environmental pollution.

In addition to future plans, she is currently working on teaching children at local children's centers about science studies and renewable energy. Next year, She plans to learn French so can become more active in her UN-related careers.
